Tourism rejected

Tourism is not the answer to Eastern Kentucky's economic problems.

This is the finding of a study conducted for the Appalachian Regional Commission by two Washington firms that are specialists in economic consulting.

The study says that recreation can never provide "the primary base for a self-sustaining economy" in the Appalachian area.

Construction of extensive recreation facilities would, at best, provide only a small and seasonal lift to the area's economy, the study says. Such construction, it adds, can "rarely be justified solely or even primarily for the sake of the economic impact on the local area."

Visitors from other states might benefit from establishment of a tourist complex in Appalachian areas, and so would investors and landowners--most of whom are residents of other areas--but residents of Appalachia would gain little from such an industry, the report indicates.

Members of the staff of the Appalachian Commission have interpreted the study to mean that it would be a mistake to spend federal funds to develop an Appalachian recreation industry. The commission will continue to consider proposals for recreation development in the "low priority" category.

This means that the Magic Mountain project at Hazard and the Cloud City project on Pine Mountain in Letcher County probably will never be financed--at least not with government money. Both proposals created considerable interest in Eastern Kentucky several years ago. The Cloud City idea was dropped by Letcher County residents after initial efforts met with failure, but Perry County has still clung to the hope that Magic Mountain would one day become a reality.

The consultants said two factors prevent the vacation industry from playing a major role in the economic growth of most areas. One is the low wages paid by the industry--60 cents to $1.25 an hour. The other is the seasonal employment, which usually lasts only half a year.

The ARC said it will continue efforts to provide facilities to attract more profitable industries to the Appalachian area.

Parents fail in try for better school

Efforts of parents in the Upper Cumberland River area to obtain better school facilities met with failure this week.

Their efforts were rebuffed by Fred Williams, Frankfort, state director of Title I federal education funds.

Title I funds were appropriated by Congress for the specific purpose of providing improved facilities and better educational opportunities for low-income, deprived schools and pupils.

By anyone's definition, the Upper Cumberland School, an overcrowded, two-room, pot-belly-stove heated wooden frame structure, is one of the most deprived schools in the nation.

Williams, who visited the Upper Cumberland school some two weeks ago, notified Letcher County Superintendent Kendall Boggs by letter that he would not approve the expenditure of funds at the Upper Cumberland School.

Williams said it is his belief that the Upper Cumberland School should be consolidated with the Eolia school, some half-dozen miles down river.

Williams said the only thing he could agree to would be the use of Title I funds to finance preparation and transportation of hot lunches from the Eolia school to Upper Cumberland.

This suggestion from Williams drew immediate opposition from a large delegation of parents who were present at the school board meeting.

They charged their children would be receiving warmed-over food, and said they could see no reason why the Upper Cumberland school could not be provided with lunchroom facilities.

Superintendent Boggs said the problem is that there is no place within the Upper Cumberland structure to use as a kitchen, "not even a closet."

In response to further questioning, Board Chairman Dr. B. F. Wright said the county board "had no objection" to building a lunchroom at Upper Cumberland "but the state won't let us."

Dr. Wright commented, and other board members agreed, that it is clear that the state education department is using its veto powers over school construction and financing to compel consolidation of rural schools such as the one at Upper Cumberland.

Boggs commented that even if the parents of the Upper Cumberland community raised and donated funds to build a school kitchen, the state would not permit it to be constructed.

The parents took an informal vote among themselves and decided to reject the offer of lunches for their children to be prepared at Eolia and then transported.

They said their kids had done without or had brought sandwiches from home, and that they had rather their children do without school lunches than be treated like some sort of second class citizen.

"Looks like you're saying Eolia children are better than our children," one of the parents told Boggs and the board.

One of the parents pointed out that the proposed Eolia-cooked lunches would cost 20 cents per day per pupil, which is more than some parents can afford. They said Upper Cumberland-cooked lunches, if the school were included in the "special" school lunch program, would cost but 10 cents.

In other actions, the board: Approved employment of Allan Warren Siegal, of New York, as band director for Whitesburg High School.

Accepted the resignations of Doris Bentley, second grade teacher at Fleming Neon; Mattie Lou Anderson, Pine Creek teacher; and Donald Bolling, Whitesburg High School history instructor, and granted a leave of absence for the remainder of the school year to Mrs. Virginia Combs, Whitesburg High School English teacher.

The board then approved the employment of David Ladd to teach at Eolia, Phillis Whitaker to teach at Eolia, Kay Daniels to teach at the Fleming-Neon second grade, Bill Lewis to teach at Pine Creek, and Kay Hale as Whitesburg English teacher and Mrs. Faith Ann Bolling as Whitesburg history teacher.

Boggs commented that the schools were fortunate in having been able to find recent college graduates as replacements for the teachers who were leaving. All the new teachers are qualified, he said.

The board hired Curtis Watts as a bus driver at Letcher, and Orville Mullins as a bus driver at Fleming-Neon, employed Bill Sergeant as janitor of the 2nd floor of the Whitesburg High School English building, employed Mrs. Juanita Brown as lunch room manager at Whitesburg, replacing Mrs. Sybil Brown, who resigned, and approved employment of Beckham Caudill as county Head Start supervisor, replacing Jack Burkich in that position.

The board then gave Boggs permission to lay off Charles Adams, Earl Holbrook and Martin Baker from the school maintenance staff after Boggs said reductions in maintenance expenditures are necessary if the system is to live within its budget.

The board authorized the filing of condemnation suits for rights-of-way for water and sewer lines to the new vocational school, if right-of-way cannot be obtained through donation or negotiated purchase.

Millstone CHILD IMPROVED

By MABEL KISER

Little Tena Dagnan is much improved after being very ill in the Whitesburg hospital. Tena is the little daughter of the Ish Dagnans of Millstone.

Friday the 13th had no bad luck in store for Mrs. Ollie Evans, who had quite an enjoyable day. It was her 65th birthday, and several of her children called from far-away places--Mrs. Annette Crane of Danville, Mrs. Alden Shaver of Tryon, Ga., and Mrs. Georgene Back of Michigan City, Ind. Mrs. Gamett Webb and her family from far-away sunny Hawaii sent a lovely orchid.

Friends of Kenneth Bentley will be happy to learn he is able to be up and about and is able to go to church, in a wheel chair of course. The doctor says it will be another month before he is able to walk about.

Blaine and I enjoyed dinner with the Ed Saffords Saturday evening. Mrs. Safford is quite a cook.

Mrs. Leonard Collins of Colson is a patient in the Whitesburg hospital after suffering a heart attack at her home early last week.

Blaine and I were very happy this week to have his brother, Carl; his son, Don, and a cousin of Don, Marine James King, visit us from Melvindale, Mich. Carl was seriously injured last fall when the wind blew a road sign through his car window and pierced his skull. Carl is doing fair physically but is unable to talk very coherently yet.

Dave Collier is not doing at all well. Visiting him Sunday were his brother-in-law, Russell Smith, and his wife from Seco.

Blaine and I drove to Carr Creek Sunday for a visit with my mother and other relatives. My mother is doing fair after a very serious illness. Later we stopped by to see Aunt Hattie Proffitt, who was not feeling well.

Marlowe moving week

By A. P. WILLIAMS

Arnold Brashears moved his family out of the camp to Cumberland, Kelly Vance moved into a house here from the Apex camp near Thornton.

Saturday Don Hughes, who had been helping his mother here since the death of his father Dec. 19, left for Owensboro, where his wife and two sons had been staying with her parents.

Another son was born at Whitesburg Hospital recently to Mr. and Mrs. McArthur Sexton, who live here.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Clay went Sunday to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Clay at Clay hollow of Camp Branch. His father, Marion Clay, is past 91 years old, and his mother is only a few years younger than his father, with both in fair health.

Denver Collins of Isom began work again in the store here about Jan. 1, and Dan Combs moved into the office as office manager Jan. 1. Sapphire mines are still running 5 days a week during these winter months.

Bridge club meets

The Letcher County Duplicate Bridge Club issued an invitation this week to anyone who can play rubber bridge to try his hand at duplicate bridge.

The club, newly organized, meets each Friday night at 7:30 in the offices of Craft Department Store in Whitesburg.

The club has applied to the American Contract Bridge League for a 1967 franchise, and when this is received, the club will be in a position to offer fractional master points to the various winners each week. The greater the number of couples playing, the more fractional points the winners may receive.

Last week's winners were North-South, Ivan Mullins of Jenkins and Joe Gentry of Whitesburg; East-West, Gertrude Johnson and Mrs. Ferdinand Moore of Whitesburg.

Trees in danger

Frankfort - Letcher County landowners face increased defoliation of their fruit trees this summer.

This is the report from the Kentucky Department of Natural Resources' division of forestry and the U. S. Forest Service, who foresee trouble this summer in 18 counties, including Letcher, from the Eastern tent caterpillar.

Counties involved include Casey, Marion, Green, Taylor and Adair; Menifee, Morgan, Montgomery and parts of Powell, Wolfe, Magoffin, Elliott, Rowan and Clark, and Letcher County and parts of Knott, Perry and Harlan.

In a recent survey by the agencies, wild cherry trees in 30 counties scattered across the state were examined to determine the presence of caterpillar egg masses.

Trees with a great deal more new egg masses than old ones can expect more defoliation this year than last year.

Assistant forestry director Harry Nadler said landowners in the three areas where increased defoliation is expected will be notified so they may undertake control action.

A follow-up survey will be conducted in May, Nadler said. Noting that the recent survey is the first ever attempted anywhere, he said one purpose of the May survey will be to test the accuracy of the system used in the first one.

J. L. Rauschenberger of the U. S. Forest Service said the Eastern tent caterpillar has been present in Kentucky for some time. But he said formal surveys and suppression programs have only recently been devised.

Increased defoliation in the past few years came to the attention of state garden clubs who informed Gov. Edward T. Breathitt of the problem. Breathitt formed a committee to investigate it, which resulted in the survey being made.

An Ordinance granting to Kentucky Power Company, a Kentucky Corporation, the franchise, right, privilege and authority to acquire, maintain, construct and operate in, above, under, across and along the streets, thoroughfares, alleys, bridges and public places of the City of Jenkins, lines for the distribution of electric energy to the City of Jenkins, the inhabitants thereof and persons and corporations beyond the limits thereof for light, heat, power and any other purposes and for the transmission of same within, through or across said city.

The City Council of the City of Jenkins does ordain as follows:

WHEREAS, the existing franchise held by the Kentucky Power Company for the distribution of electric power in the City of Jenkins, Kentucky, expired on December 13, 1966, and

WHEREAS, there is a continuing public necessity for adequate service of electric power and energy to the citizens of the City of Jenkins, and

WHEREAS, it appears that it is to the interest of the public that a franchise be advertised and sold granting and entitling the grantee to use the public streets, thoroughfares and other public places for the erection and maintenance of lines for the transmission and distribution of electric power.

Section 1: Kentucky Power Company, a Kentucky corporation, its successors and assigns, hereinafter called the Grantee, are granted the franchise, right, privilege and authority to acquire, maintain, construct and operate in, above, under, across and along the streets, thoroughfares, alleys, bridges and public places (as the same now exist or may hereafter be laid out) of the City of Jenkins, Letcher County, Kentucky, lines, poles and equipment for the distribution of electric energy, either by means of overhead or underground conductors, with all the necessary or desirable appurtenances for the purpose of supplying electric energy to said city and the inhabitants thereof and persons and corporations beyond the limits thereof for light, heat, power and any other purpose or purposes for which electric energy is now or may hereafter be used, and for the transmission of the same within, through or across said city.

Section 2: Said lines and appurtenances shall be constructed so as to interfere as little as possible with the traveling public in its use of the streets, thoroughfares, alleys, bridges and public places. The location of all poles or conduits shall be made under the supervision of the proper board or committee of the city government.

Section 3: The right, privilege and franchise shall be in full force and effect for a period of twenty (20) years from the date of passage of this ordinance.

Section 4: The grantee of this franchise shall save the city harmless from any and all liability arising in any way from negligence in the erection, maintenance or operation of said lines and appurtenances.

Section 5: Whenever the grantee of this franchise shall begin the erection of any lines or other equipment, it shall promptly and diligently prosecute the work to completion and leave the streets, thoroughfares, alleys, bridges and public places where such work is done in as good condition of repair as before such work was commenced.

Section 6: Wherever in this franchise, either the City of Jenkins or the grantee thereof is referred to, it shall be deemed to include the respective successors and assigns of either, and all rights, privileges and obligations contained in this franchise shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the respective successors and assigns of said city, and said grantee, whether so expressed or not.

Millstone PREDICTIONS FOR BAD WINTER HAVE APPLIED EVERYWHERE BUT HERE

By: MABEL KISER

Well, winter is well on its way and it seems that I was right in my weather predictions in all parts of the country except in my own area. The cold part turned out to be right, but little snow has fallen here so far. Aren't you glad that I was somewhat wrong?

Hennie Adams is somewhat improved after being a seriously ill patient in the Whitesburg hospital. Visiting him were his children, Mrs. Minnie Collins and married daughter, Mrs. Betty Hall, and a son, Norman, both of Indianapolis, and son Leroy Adams, of Louisville.

Aunt Hattie Proffitt is home but is not doing too well.

Miss Judy Baker has returned to her job in Washington, D. C., after visiting her parents, the Leonard Bakers, on Right Fork of Millstone Creek. Judy is an apprentice in the FBI organization in Washington.

Visiting Mrs. Minnie Kiser and other relatives in and around Kona was her son, Cpl. James Dickey Kiser from Ft. Sill, Okla.

Remember when grandma sewed and made those wonderful white sheets and counterpanes (bedspreads) and pillow shams?

Sgt. Glen Hagen Evans has been visiting on Millstone the past few weeks with his mother, Mrs. Ollie Evans, his wife and baby. His wife is the former Bernice Duty. Sergeant Evans has been serving in Vietnam the past several months.

Mrs. Dewey Thomas and Mr. Thomas of Kona were very happy to have their sons visiting - Joe H. Spurgeon and Bill Spurgeon, both of Cleveland, and Sgt. Frank (Junior) Spurgeon from Vietnam. Frank's wife and daughter, Vicky, live with a sister in Hopkinsville while their father is in the army.

Remember when a night cap was something grandma wore on her head at night?

Sometimes a news item upsets me so very much. Like the court case, this week, of little Elizabeth St. John. Why, why, is it that if a couple wants to give a child a home and loving care there is so much opposition and fan fare, while if a mother abandons a child it merits a few lines, hardly a paragraph, on the back page of a newspaper?

Remember grandma's dress of calico? Granddaughter wears one of the same material, only it is called percale, or print, and there is not nearly so much material in the dress.

We extend sympathy to the family of Staff Sergeant Brownie Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Hall, Deane, who was killed in Vietnam December 23. Sgt. Hall, 38, had been in service almost 19 years. Besides his parents he is survived by two brothers, Homer, Deane, Ky., and Lacey, of Lorain, O.; and a sister, Gladys, of Davenport, Iowa. The funeral was held at the home of his father at Deane. Burial was in the family plot at Deane.

Millstone residents are still grieving over the death of one of her beloved gone-away youths.

Nathan J. (Johnny) Stidham drowned while out hunting ducks with a friend, Jimmy Slatton, on the Poquonock River near Groton, Conn. Johnny loved to hunt and he and his friend were out on the river in late December. The boat overturned about 40 feet from the shore in 15 feet of water. The weather was very cold and the men were heavily dressed. His friend managed to swim ashore by using a duffle bag, loaded with decoys, as a life preserver. Johnny, who would have been 22 next month, was the son of Nathan and Mildred Evans Stidham, and was born on Millstone and reared here. He entered the Army in 1962. In 1965 he married Cheryl Pappas of Groton, Conn., and went there to live. They were expecting their first child in June. Johnny was out of the army and was amachinist. Besides his wife and parents he was survived by two brothers and four sisters -- Pvt. Charles Allen Stidham, Ft. Bliss, Texas; Bill Stidham, at home; Mrs. Carroll Helton, Wyandotte, Mich.; Teresa, Demyris and Vivian, at home. Johnny was a fine young man, and loved by all of us here in Millstone. The Stidham and the Evans families are some of our best. He was buried in his wife's cemetery in Connecticut.

Pvt. Edwin Earl Everidge, son of the Ish Everidges, is in Fort Bliss, Texas.

FEDERAL LAW PROVIDES PENALTIES FOR THOSE WHO DAMAGE MAILBOXES

Mailboxes are protected by Federal law, and pranksters or vandals who damage or destroy the boxes and their contents may be in for a heavy fine or imprisonment, Postmaster R. C. Day warned today.

Day noted that some 25,000 mail receptacles were damaged or destroyed in the past year, nationally. He also noted that 2,641 persons were arrested in the year up to June 30 for damaging or destroying mail receptacles.

Day quoted from the law: "Whoever wilfully or maliciously injures, tears down or destroys any letterbox or other receptacle intended or used for the receipt or delivery of mail on any mail route, or breaks open the same or wilfully or maliciously injures, defaces or destroys any mail deposited therein, shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than three years."

This applies to all mail receptacles and the mail in them, even though the boxes are bought by citizens and are their personal property, Postmaster Day said.

"Pranksters -- and especially children who do not know any better -- should be made to realize the seriousness of their actions," Day said. "A $1,000 fine or a term in jail is enough to take the humor out of any prank."

Often the mailbox damage is the work of youths, who do it for "kicks." And the courts have shown little sympathy for this youthful means of expression. In Michigan, a justice sentenced two 18-year-olds to 10 days in jail, including two on a diet of baby food. The diet specification, explained the judge, was because the youths "acted like babies." They were also fined $25 plus $15 costs.

In New York state, five youths were fined $25 each plus restitution or restoration, plus no driving for an indefinite period, plus an 8 p.m. curfew, plus a written analysis by each of a magazine article entitled "A Judge Gets Tough on Hoodlums."

Two Iowa youths who damaged 39 mailboxes were required to personally apologize to each boxholder in addition to making repairs or providing a new box.

In Missouri, three 17-year-old youths lost their driving privileges, were given a 9 p.m. curfew, and had to report twice weekly to juvenile authorities. They had damaged 63 mailboxes.

The Whitesburg postmaster said he was issuing the warning because "There has been quite a bit of this sort of thing in the county."

TWO RESIDENTS OF BLACKKEY AREA TAKEN BY DEATH

By CHARLES ANNE MULLIS

Mrs. Marlin Back (Goldie) is sick and in the hospital at Whitesburg. Mrs. Dave Dixon is also sick and in the hospital.

Astor Caudill is in the hospital. Charlie Madden died last week in the Whitesburg hospital. His funeral was Sunday at the Indian Bottom Church and burial was in the Pearl Dixon Cemetery.

Home for the funeral were his children, Irene Hutchinson of Milford, Ohio; Gladys Caudill of Milam, Ind.; Marie Amer of Cincinnati; Marvel Jean Carey of Junction City, Kansas; Robert Madden of Orlando, Fla., and George Madden of Cincinnati. Two other children live in Blackey; they are Beatrice Whitaker and Sam Madden. His wife is Polly Watts Madden.

It would seem that all of our news this week is sad. Aunt Callie Back died Saturday morning, and the funeral was Monday at the Mt. Oliver Church. Burial was in the Whitaker family cemetery. Home for her funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Keller Whitaker of Frankfort, Mr. and Mrs. William Whitaker of Morehead, Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Hale of Montana, Mrs. Vima Patterson of Tennessee, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Back of London, Mrs. Gladys Toff of Missouri, Mr. and Mrs. James Back of Missouri, Dick Caudill of Missouri, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Back of Indiana, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cleo

Hale of Florida, Mr. and Mrs. William Whitaker Jr. of Lexington, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Welton Patterson of Indiana, Mr. and Mrs. David Loggans of Grundy, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Frazier of Louisville; Charles Dixon of Louisville; Andrew Dixon of Fairdale; Mrs. Herm Blevins of Cumberland; Mrs. Carolyn Caudill of Grundy, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Belt Taylor of Cumberland; Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Fields of Whitesburg and Patsy Anne; Mrs. May Fields and Leroy of Berea. These are most of the family from out of town; I hope I haven't left anyone out. Aunt Callie was the mother of I. D. and Walt Back and the sister of Aunt Annie Dixon and Aunt Crittie Andrews, all of Blackey.

Aunt Annie Dixon is in the hospital at Whitesburg. She is improved a little. We hope with time it will be a lot.
